LAKEVIEW MEMORIAL HOSPITAL
SCHOOL OF NURSING

DANVILLE, ILLINOIS

Foreword

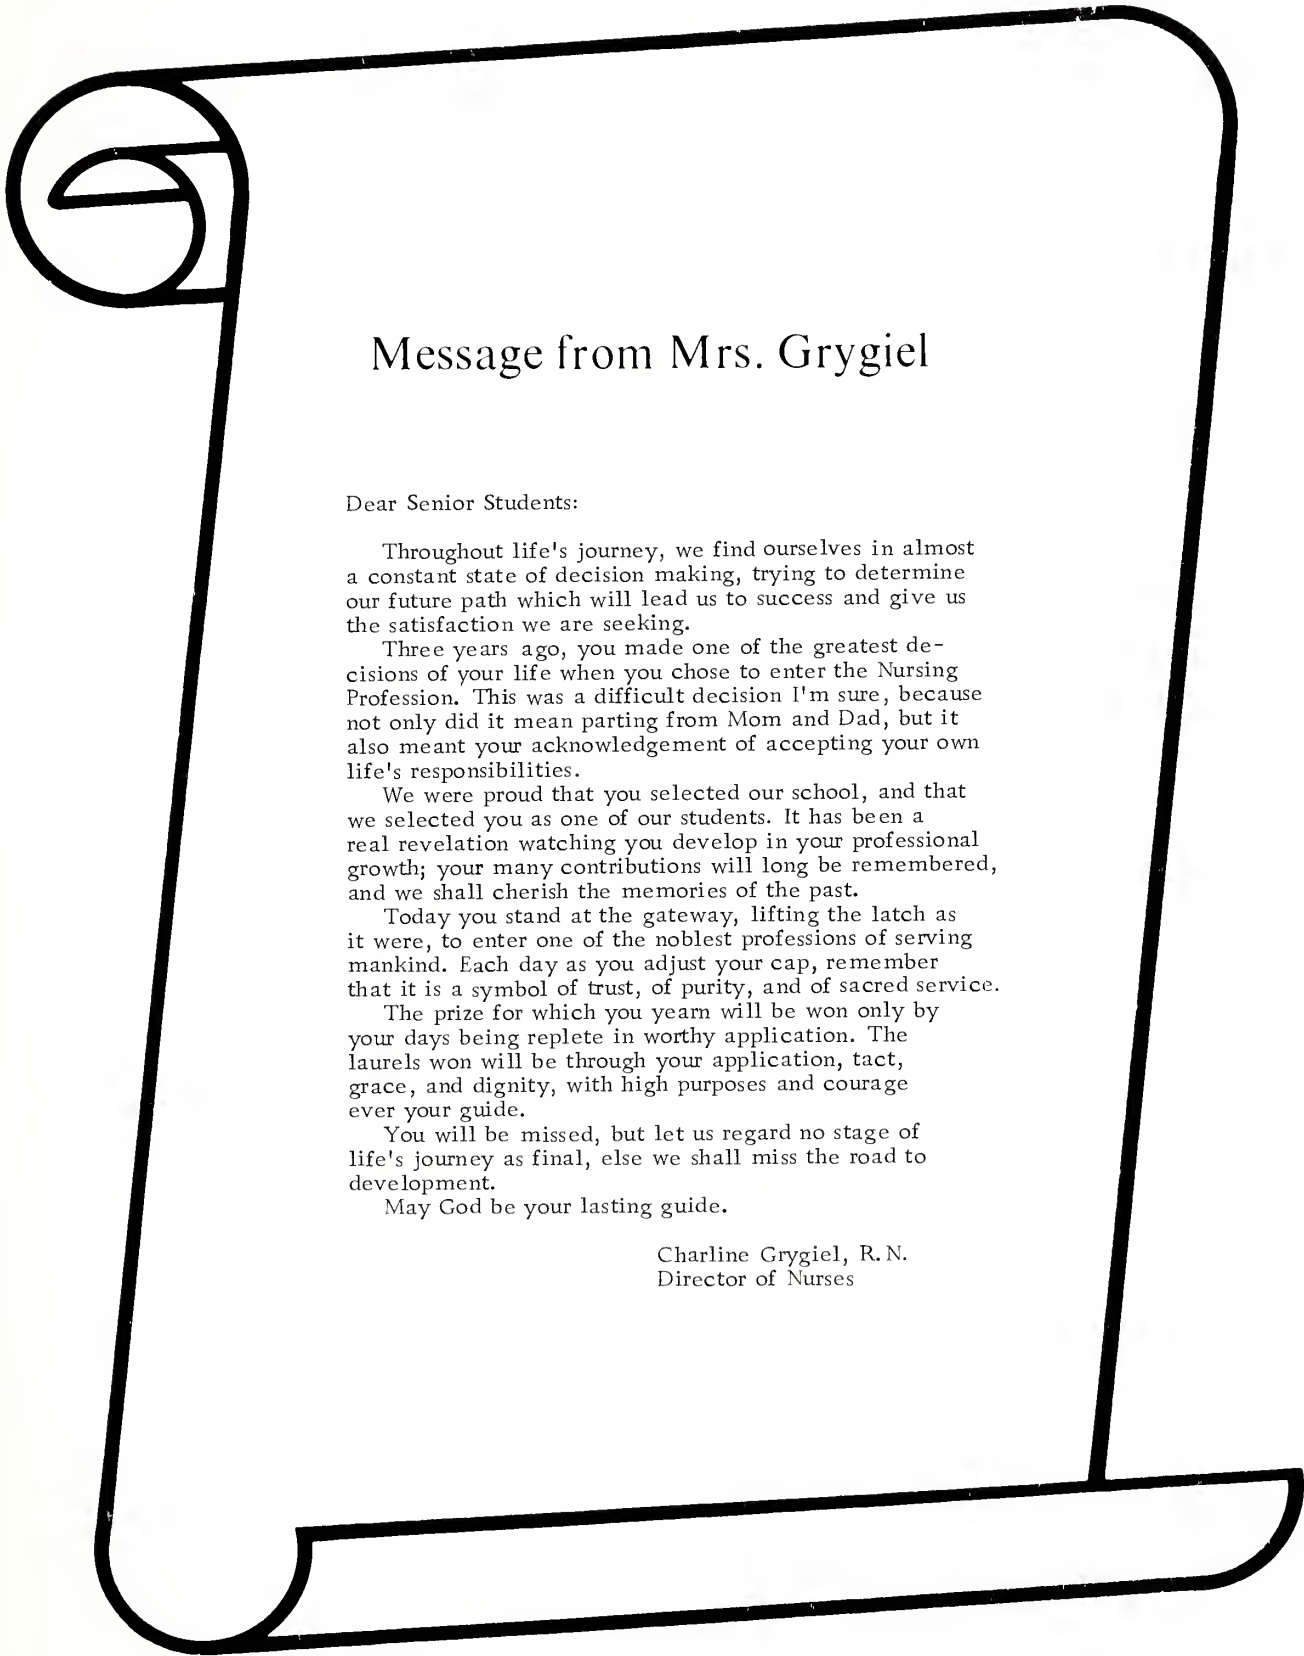

It is our purpose to preserve the tradition and activities of our nursing school days and to bring to memory the happy and well-spent years here.

We, the PARAGON staff for 1968, put before you, both in word and in picture, the many phases of life that all in Lake View Memorial School of Nursing have experienced during the past year. It is our desire to ever keep alive the spirit of our school. If this is done, our efforts have been most highly rewarded.

Dedication

We, the members of the PARAGON staff, do dedicate this year's PARAGON to the Senior Class. We hope you will treasure this book as an important part of your school years.

We earnestly trust that you will have the desire to render unselfish service to whatever community in which you choose to work.

Message from Mrs. Grygiel

Dear Senior Students:

Throughout life's journey, we find ourselves in almost a constant state of decision making, trying to determine our future path which will lead us to success and give us the satisfaction we are seeking.

Three years ago, you made one of the greatest decisions of your life when you chose to enter the Nursing Profession. This was a difficult decision I'm sure, because not only did it mean parting from Mom and Dad, but it also meant your acknowledgement of accepting your own life's responsibilities.

We were proud that you selected our school, and that we selected you as one of our students. It has been a real revelation watching you develop in your professional growth; your many contributions will long be remembered, and we shall cherish the memories of the past.

Today you stand at the gateway, lifting the latch as it were, to enter one of the noblest professions of serving mankind. Each day as you adjust your cap, remember that it is a symbol of trust, of purity, and of sacred service.

The prize for which you yearn will be won only by your days being replete in worthy application. The laurels won will be through your application, tact, grace, and dignity, with high purposes and courage ever your guide.

You will be missed, but let us regard no stage of life's journey as final, else we shall miss the road to development.

May God be your lasting guide.
